NOTES

COMMENTARY

Overview

The Group generated strong revenue performance in an environment where the consumer continued to be financially constrained, while improving total income margin and gaining market share across all core retail categories. The front-loaded investment in establishing X, bigly labs of R330 million over FY2026, has delivered proof points in the last quarter of the financial period, including Better Rewards and our Store of the Future design (The Health Hub). The X, bigly labs investment is expected to yield net positive returns in FY2027. This investment serves to evolve the Group from retail pharmacy to integrated healthcare provider and continues to prioritise the importance of data-led retailing.

Basic earnings per share (EPS) and basic headline earnings per share (HEPS) are 114.2 cents and 113.7 cents per share respectively, a decrease of 17.1% and 17.3% respectively. Excluding the once-off property gain in the prior period, this equates to a decrease of 11.3% and 11.7% respectively.

Excluding the investment in the ecosystem, and the non-recurring expenses in the current and prior periods, Group profit before tax was up 20.1%.

Core Retail Trading Performance

Trading performance of the core retail business, when excluding R445 million invested in the ecosystem and eliminating non-recurring expenses, was pleasing, with core retail profit before tax increasing by 27.1% over the comparable period.

Ecosystem investments have the objective of transitioning the Group from pharmacy retailer to integrated healthcare provider ensuring the following:

- Positioning the Group as South Africa's healthcare authority with the purpose of increasing access to care and reducing the cost of care.
- Creating an ecosystem that positions the Group to play the dual role of healthcare provider and funder; using an innovative operating model to reimagine and disrupt the manner in which South Africans access healthcare.
- Healthcare delivery, both products and services, to create a defensive moat that secures the traditional retail basket in an ever-increasing competitive environment.

75% or R330 million of the R445 million was invested in establishing and operationalising X, bigly labs and Dis-Chem Life. The X, bigly labs investment is aimed at generating significant returns in the core retail business over time with an expectation for net positive returns in FY2027. Included in the R330 million is R27 million investment in marketing and operating costs for Dis-Chem Life which, with our investments in health funding products, allows the Group to control the design of funding products to drive additional foot traffic into our ecosystem.

During the period, proof points included the launch of Better Rewards, a new analytically-led promotional engine, and The Health Hub that empowers operational ways of working that enable us to deliver on lower-cost and greater-access healthcare delivery. Areas of on-going investment that are yet to realise a return, include our soon-to-be relaunched app and broader e-commerce offering; modernised data, analytics and AI platforms; and enterprise acceleration focused on process efficiencies and reduced cost to deliver healthcare services.

25% or R115 million of the R445 million relates to the non-recurring expense to retire the benefit points program and launch Better Rewards.

The key driver of the strong core retail performance was positive operating leverage. Like-for-like retail sales was 5.3%; with like-for-like payroll cost, the largest contributor to retail expenses, at 3.5%.

Review of financial performance

Revenue

For the 12-months ended 28 February 2026, Dis-Chem Group revenue increased by 9.3% to R42.8 billion.

Retail revenue grew by 9.0% to R36.6 billion with comparable pharmacy store revenue growth at 5.3%. Net store changes included the opening and acquisition of 31 retail pharmacy stores and three baby store closures, resulting in a footprint of 316 retail pharmacy stores and 42 retail baby stores at year end.

For the 17 weeks since the launch of the Better Rewards programme revenue increased by 9.6% compared to the corresponding period. Retail revenue growth of participating Better Rewards brands increased by 12.0% compared to the corresponding period with volume growth of 18.7%. The consistency of an always-on, health-relevant, lowest priced basket is driving increased shopping frequency. Market share growth in volume terms, across all core retail categories, increased by 1.1 percentage points over the period.

Wholesale revenue grew by 13.1% to R34.0 billion. Wholesale revenue to our own retail stores, still the biggest contributor, grew by 13.5% while external revenue to independent pharmacies and The Local Choice ("TLC") franchisees grew by 11.3% over the comparable period. Independent pharmacy growth was 7.2% attributable to both new customers and increased support from the current base, and TLC growth was 16.4% due to an increase in TLC franchise stores from 240 to 280.

Total income

When excluding the property gain in the prior year total income grew by 9.6% to R13.2 billion, with the Group's total income margin being 30.8% compared to 30.7% in the prior comparative period.

Retail total income grew by 12.2% with the retail margin increasing from 30.3% to 31.1% over the comparable period. The increase in retail total income margin was due to an increase in transactional gross margin across dispensary and healthcare categories, and the impact of data-informed promotional strategies lead by the commercial data intelligence team in X, bigly labs. Trade terms increased ahead of purchases growth due to increased scale.

Wholesale total income remained consistent from the prior period, when excluding the property gain.

Other expenses

Expenses grew by 13.0% over the comparable period.

Retail expenses grew by 15.7% as the Group invested in new stores and innovation. Retail employment costs, when excluding the investment in X, bigly labs, increased by 10.3%. Like-for-like retail employment costs continued to be well maintained at 3.5% as a consequence of the implementation of staffing framework 1.0 and the progress made on staffing framework 2.0.

Wholesale expenses were well controlled with an increase of only 2.6%. The main increase in expenses relates to additional employee and courier costs from the expansion into the Long Meadow warehouse.

Net finance costs

Net financing costs increased by 3.3% from the prior comparable period. Excluding finance costs from IFRS 16, net financing costs increased by 7.1%. This increase is mainly due to the additional overdraft facility being used in the current period.

Net working capital

During the current period, the Group's inventory increased by R3 million from February 2025 notwithstanding the opening of new stores, as the Group continues to unlock cash through the reduction of excess stock resulting in inventory days decreasing from 90.5 days at 28 February 2025, to 86.4 days. Creditors' days have declined slightly from 93.9 days to 92.3 days.

Net working capital at 24.4 days, has decreased from 24.8 days at 28 February 2025.

Capital expenditure

Capital expenditure on tangible and intangible assets of R1.1 billion included R730 million for expansionary expenditure as the Group invested in additional stores, information technology enhancements (including the soon-to-be relaunched app and broader e-commerce offering) across both the retail and wholesale segments. The balance of R374 million relates to maintenance expenditure incurred to maintain the existing retail and wholesale networks.

Outlook

For the period 1 March 2026 to 19 May 2026, Group revenue grew by 9.0% over the comparable period.

- Retail revenue grew by 8.8%, supported by the opening of 8 pharmacy stores and the continued market share growth from Better Rewards
- Wholesale revenue to external customers grew by 10.4%.

Importantly the Group's Total Income margin increased to 32.0%.

The revenue growth, market share gains and improved total income margin highlights the sustainability of the Better Rewards program and the importance of this program in driving positive operating leverage and strong future earnings growth.

The Group expects that the consumer will remain constrained due to the current economic climate and increase in fuel prices. Following the establishment of X, bigly labs, there is a shift to data-led commercial decisioning that places the customer at the centre of the ecosystem experience.

Linked to our strategic areas of focus, the following business priorities will progress and launch in FY2027.

- Launch of the Store of the Future design which integrates healthcare services into a single cohesive customer and patient experience. The new format reduces the cost to serve, maximizes floor efficiency and revenue return per square meter, and shifts integrated healthcare delivery from a secondary service to the very core of the store.
- Continued acceleration of space identification and new store openings. Including the 8 stores already trading in FY2027, 35 retail pharmacy stores are planned for the year. All stores that carry beneficial occupation dates from the 1st of August 2026 will be executed under the new Store of the Future design principles.
- Restructured operating model focused on realigning the business's operating model to a modern operational structure that allows a more cohesive working relationship with X, bigly lab's, a tighter span of control for the CEO and an important shift from founder-led cross-functional leadership to a structure that creates clearer lines of accountability. An additional 200 new roles will be created in underinvested departments.
- Continued focus of staffing framework 2.0 into the retail business.
- Reimagine online retailing and healthcare access, starting with complete revamp of digital channels.
- People and Culture: employees as our priority customers with a commitment to improve their health enabling them to access differentiated rewards, creating 22,000 purpose-aligned ambassadors delivering on the ecosystem strategy.
